

Social Commitment in Latin America

- The company understands its role as key player in contributing to the sustainable development of society in the countries in which it operates, and contributes to improving people's quality of life.
- Under the scope of the 2020 Sustainability Master Plan, there are three types of actions that manage and measure these different impacts: social impact management, investment associated with projects and the measurement of the socioeconomic impact.
- The company develops social projects and initiatives in various countries in Latin America: Brazil, Mexico, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Costa Rica and the Dominican Republic, amongst others.

ACCIONA's commitment to sustainability is seen as a commitment towards social progress, environmental balance, and economic growth; it is reflected in the contribution towards achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

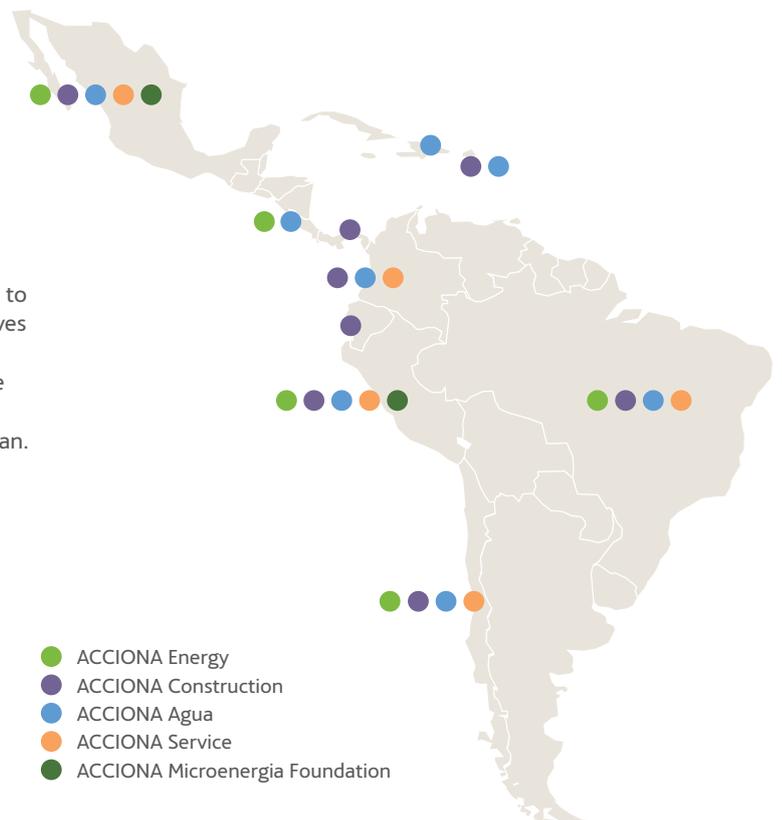

Via its projects in water, renewable energies and infrastructure, ACCIONA contributes towards key objectives, among other reasons to be a sine qua non for achieving the rest. In particular, these objectives related to the aforementioned SDGs on access to water (no. 6), energy (no. 7), infrastructure (no. 9) and mitigating climate change (no. 13). To a different extent, it also contributes to the rest of the goals through the initiatives included in the Sustainability Master Plan.

Presence in more than 40 countries

Development of sustainable solutions to major global challenges

More than 100 years of experience

Social Projects and Initiatives

Access to Basic Services:

ACCIONA Microenergia Foundation

ACCIONA Microenergia Foundation aims to provide access to basic services related to ACCIONA's business lines in isolated rural communities in developing countries with no prospects of accessing these services.

Through the programme "Luz en Casa Cajamarca", approximately 4,000 homes and around 16,000 Peruvians in the province of Cajamarca now have a basic electricity service, thanks to the solar home systems installed, which improve their living conditions. In the same way, the project "Luz en Casa Napo Piloto" has been developed in the Peruvian Amazon, benefiting 61 native families. In order to foster local entrepreneurship, 14 microfranchises "Centros Luz en Casa" have been started up in Peru.

In Mexico, through the programme "Luz en Casa Oaxaca", populations of fewer than 100 inhabitants in the state of Oaxaca, where the Federal Commission for Electricity has no plans to offer an electricity supply, are now equipped with a basic electricity system with 3G solar home systems. At present, more than 30,000 people have basic access to electricity. To the same end, six microfranchises "Centros Luz en Casa" have been started up.

Social investment related to projects

ACCIONA seeks to boost the development of the communities in which it operates and accepts responsibility for searching for solutions that improve people's lives. This is why, amongst others, it pursues the following initiatives:

- Community educational campaigns.
- Project information campaigns.
- Social initiatives for children.
- Volunteer campaigns to help those in greatest difficulty.
- Health workshops to prevent diseases.
- Restoration of places of cultural/religious interest.
- Protection/restoration of places of natural interest.
- Improvement of infrastructures: roads, bridges, water extraction.
- Fauna protection plans.
- Other measures: Football championships, recycling campaigns, amongst others.

Promotion of sustainability

- Sustainability Workshop: The Sustainability Workshop programme is intended to train young adults and children aged between 10 and 16 years old, in matters relating to water quality and conservation, energy efficiency and savings, mobility and sustainable construction.

Volunteering programme

- The aim of the ACCIONA Volunteering Programme is to channel employees' concerns over volunteering through social initiatives in line with the Social Action Plan and thereby generate a culture of collaboration and solidarity that sensitises the workforce to the needs of other social groups.
- In the last 6 years, more than 5,300 volunteers of ACCIONA have taken part in various initiatives, dedicating more than 46,000 hours to the service of the community.

